"Am delighted with Tongaline, it is the remedy for neuralgia." So says Wald Howard, M. D., Booneville, Mo., and physicians generally have warmest words of praise for this almost infallible remedy for neuralgia, rheumatism and headache. For ladies subject to nervous, neuralgic or sick headache Tongaline has no equal.

BUZZARD ROOST,
FRANKLIN Co., Ky.

Editor Roundabout:
DEAR NEPHEW:—Your uncle wants to ask you a few questions:
First.—What do the sovereigns think of my prospects for the office of Jailor? Do you think that anyone else will want the office in Franklin county? Will you try and get some one to make the race? It's so long some where there is but one running.

Please withdraw my name as a candidate for Public Printer. Reasons private. I have changed my mind in regard to doing the public printing. If it is let to the lowest bidder some poor man or Republican would get it, and that would ruin the poor man, because there ain't but 40 cents in the Treasury to pay him; but it would be glorious for the Republican.

As to the Warden, your uncle is afraid some of the zebraws would put out his light. I don't want to lose my life for 40 cents.
In regard to news, Whitt at Hutton a few days ago I learned that everybody is going to put in a large crop of tobacco. The citizens around that are going to use fertilizer kept for sale by Mr. Bell, the agent for the Railroad Company.

Speaking of Mr. Bell reminds me the fact that he lost his bull calf. He died with a pluro-pneumonia. Please send the veterinary surgeon at once so he can get a check for his money and be ready when that much cash gets in the Treasury. Say some time in 1890 will do.

It is said we are a progressive party. That's true to the letter, at least we have made considerable progress in emptying the Treasury. There is not much left. The Auditor, after a neat count, reported just 18 cents left in the vault.
The Wise Men of the East have netted well their part at the Capital this winter in more ways than any one Legislature could have dreamed of. In abolishing the Geological Survey. Just think of it. The Yankees out East would have come and put up foundries, shops, mills and nutting machines, and burnt up all of our coal and dug up all of the different ores, and left us as poor as buzzards. Well done, faithful servants. Be sure you keep the resources of the State a profound secret. Repealing the bill was right. The mover of the resolution to abolish the Geological Survey is a benefactor to the people of Kentucky. His picture ought to be in the chamber of the United States Senate, between Gen. Washington and Thomas Jefferson.

Don't pass the bill accepting money from the United States to educate the poor children of the State. My reasons are these. Yankees would come over to teach school and find our iron and lead ores and coal. The work then of repeating the Geological Survey bill would all be lost. I merely make this as a suggestion. I don't want to dictate.

It would be well to appropriate about a thousand dollars to bring some more Dutch millwheels for the ponds, creeks and rivers.
Fact is, we as a people are getting smarter every day. I would tell you how I found it out—then you would be as smart as your uncle Zeke; but we are kin and I don't care to tell you. Remember, Lewis, it's a Masonic secret on the points of fellowship. I learned it from the assembled wisdom of the State at Frankfort.

Now for the information, namely: That it is right to vote the people's money to pay rich men for cows that may die of hog cholera and let the poor man lose his that may die from starvation. As a matter of course, I believe it's all right because the wise men at Frankfort say so. I'm in hopes it will turn out like Sat Lovingsgood and his donkey playing dog. It's hard on the taxpayers, but it's the making of Cow Boys. We will try and stand it, as it will be the making of the pup.
That immortal committee that said the public printing bill ought not to pass, letting out the work to the lowest bidder, should have a vote of thanks.

Attention, Mechanic! Hold your breath! Sealed proposals will be received at the office of Zeke Yocum at Hutton, until March 10th, 1886 for the following named buildings: one large enough to do the public printing to be of brick, metal roof, with type, presses, and engines; in short, all material necessary to do work for the State. Also one barn as large as the Exposition building at Louisville, Ky. Said barn to be of brick, with metal roof, with large windows to give the poor sick cows plenty of air, with stalls not less than 20 feet square, with 90 feet ceiling. One large dwelling house for the veterinary surgeon, containing 25 rooms with all modern improvements.

Seeing it's the order of the day to let out work to the highest instead of lowest bidder, no one need put in small bids. The one who puts in the largest bill will get the job.
Mr. Yocum reserves the right to reject any bid that may be too small. I can be found at my office at Hutton every day from six until six.

ZEKE YOCUM.

A Beautiful Woman.

A woman with pleasant smile, clear skin, bright eyes, generous expression, elastic step, hearty-hand shake and courteous welcome. Such a woman is not the victim of debility, languor or dyspepsia. She has overcome these pests by using Brown's Iron Bitters, the world's great tonic. Miss Mattie Benson, South Parsonfield, Mo., says, "After using Brown's Iron Bitters for weakness and lack of appetite and energy I felt like another person."

Cure for Piles.

Piles are frequently preceded by a sense of weight in the back, loins and lower part of the abdomen, causing the patient to suppose has some affection of the kidneys or neighboring organs. At times, symptoms of indigestion are present, flatulency, uneasiness of the stomach, etc. Anusole, like perspiration, producing a very disagreeable itching, after getting warm is a common attendant. Blind, Bleeding and Itching Piles yield at once to the application of Dr. Bosanko's Pile Remedy, which acts directly upon the parts affected, absorbing the Tumors, allaying the intense itching, and effecting a permanent cure. Price 50 cents. Address, The Dr. Bosanko Medicine Co., N. Y. Sold by Hughes & Chiles.

AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn, raise bile, liver to its normal action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels. AYER'S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also, in curing Constipation, remove the cause of indigestion, liver complaint, biliousness, headache, rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substances, and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healthy. To continue their effect in constipated or chronic cases, they need only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For some of the ailments of travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a sickness which will not alleviate, and in most cases cure, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering womanhood, and to women whose period of maternity is drawing to a close, Ayer's Pills, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of

Inc calculable Value.

FRANKFORT ROUNDABOUT.

Entered at the post-office at Frankfort, Kentucky as second class mail matter.

GEORGE A. LEWIS.

Editor and Publisher.

FRANKFORT, FEBRUARY 27, 1886.

Judge W. L. Jett, of this city, was on Tuesday appointed Post-office Inspector for this State by the Post Master General. He returned from Washington City Wednesday evening and as soon as his bond is approved his commission will be forwarded.

Miss Mintie Stephens, daughter of the late Ed. V. Stephens, died at the residence of her mother, in South Frankfort, Monday evening, after an illness of eight weeks, with meningitis, in the seventeenth year of her age. Her suffering had been intense and death came as a sweet relief from pain.

The case of Rennick vs. Todd was dismissed in the Circuit Court on Saturday without prejudice. This is the case in which the widow of the late At. Rennick was suing his brother-in-law, Mr. James M. Todd, to recover $10,000 presented Mr. Todd by her late husband some time before his marriage with her.

Mr. Jas. M. Withrow, of this city, who for a number of years was Assistant Auditor of State, but for the last two years has been clerk at the Capital Hotel, has been appointed deputy in charge of the lists by Internal Revenue Collector J. F. Robinson. He left yesterday to assume that position in the Collector's office in Lexington.

Miss Mammie Powell returned Friday from Mayview, Missouri, where she was summoned by the fatal illness of her mother three weeks since. When she reached her destination she found the grim messenger had preceded her, and the loved one, whose dying hours she hoped to cheer, had crossed the dark river. She saw the warmest sympathy of a large circle of friends.

Notice.

The members of the Confederate Memorial Association will take notice that there will be a meeting of said Association at the residence of Mrs. R. M. Aldridge on Tuesday, March 2d, at 4 p. m. All members are requested to be present. By order of

MRS. R. M. ALDRIDGE, President.
W. L. JETT, Sec'y & Treas.

Mr. Robert Duvall, of Owen county, Assistant Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Representatives, and Miss Ella Steele, daughter of Mr. William I. Steele, of Belle Point, were married at the Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon by Rev. G. F. Bagby, in the presence of a large company of friends of the young couple. The ushers were Messrs. Jake Corbett and George Bagby, Chas. B. LeCompte and James Corbett.

The Corn Van Tassel Dramatic Company have been playing an engagement of five nights at the Opera House this week to large, and appreciative audiences, who pronounce the troupe an unusually good one. The pieces presented have been well put upon the stage, each performer being very good and well up in his or her part, and the tremendous applause they received gave ample evidence of the great enjoyment of the crowded houses before whom they appeared. It is the earnest desire of our theatre going people that they return here again soon, which they may possibly do the latter part of next month.

Daniel Bandmann the celebrated juggler of 30 years' standing, will appear at the Opera House on Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday evenings of next week, supported by a full company of first-class artists. The prices of admission will be on a popular scale—parquet and dress circle 50 cents; balcony 35, and gallery 20. The prices have not been put down because the show is inferior, on the contrary it is first class in every respect, but to induce the people to come out and give this celebrated actor full houses. Seats can be reserved at Barrett's without extra charge, beginning on Tuesday, March 2d.

G. A. R.

Stated meeting of Albert G. Bacon, Post, at Weitzel Hall, 223 St. Clair street, Monday evening, March 1st, at 7 o'clock. Visiting comrades are cordially invited.

D. W. LINDSEY, Com.
V. BERBERICH, Adjt.

Mr. Sol. Harris sold on Wednesday to Mr. P. C. Sower a lot on Main street, adjoining Mr. Sower's property, 25 by 100 feet for $3,100. Mr. Sower will erect a business house upon it in a short time.

Mr. Harris will commence the erection of a business house upon the remaining portion of his lot on the corner of Main and St. Clair streets, 25 by 100 feet, early in April.

Eloquence, poetry, and song preside to-day. The Teachers assemble at the Opera House this morning at 10 o'clock, at which hour Governor Knott will deliver the address of welcome. The day and part of the night will be devoted to studying the wants of the children of the State. Teachers are here from all parts of the State, and of course Frankfort will be there en masse. We predict a very large and useful meeting. The entire Legislature was specially invited on yesterday.

Prof. Fusco, the celebrated vocal teacher of Louisville, under whose training Mrs. Fredenheimer, the sweet singer of that city, attained such excellence, will attend the Educational Meeting at the Opera House to-day and bring with him two of his pupils, Miss T. Margaret Williams, of Louisville, and Miss Bode Combs, of Missouri, who is at present attending Eminence College, where the Professor has a class. These young ladies are both exceedingly sweet singers as well as very beautiful in person, and will add very materially to the programme. Miss Williams has already made an engagement with Max Strakosch for the balance of the season, and will join his opera troupe next week, and this is an opportunity lovers of music should not allow to slip by, as she may never honor us with her presence again. Miss Combs has sang in public but once before, on which occasion she completely captivated her audience and was encored a number of times. Don't fail to go to the Opera House to-day. One song from either of these young ladies will amply repay you.

The Children's Hop.

The fancy dress hop given to the children by the Assembly Ball Club on Thursday evening was a grand success. The attendance was so very large that but little room could be had on the floor for dancing. The little wags were out in force and held fast until 11 o'clock when they gave way to the older persons present.

Excitement in Texas.

Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Corley, who was so helpless he could not turn in bed, or raise his head; everybody said he was dying of Consumption. A trial bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery was sent him. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of Pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. Good News for the West End.

"Craw" seems among over the fact that the School Board, together with the educational committee of the City Council, have unanimously recommended the erection of a school building in the third ward. A regular and permanent public school once established in our part of the city would not only be of incalculable benefit to all the children of this and contiguous neighborhoods, but would be the first effective and a tremendously long step towards a radical change for the better in the general conditions of this part of our city. As light is most needed where darkness is thickest, so education is most needed where ignorance is densest, and the temptation to immorality and vice most prevalent. By all means let us have one or more schools in this benighted quarter. Every interest of the people will be promoted; no single interest be unjustly encroached upon or injured. Light is what we want. Therefore give us, we pray you, light. Mr. School Board, we thank you.

Louisville Tobacco Market.

PUBLISHED BY GLOVER & DUBRETT, PROPRIETORS LOUISVILLE TOBACCO WAREHOUSE.

The sales for one week to date amount to 5,215 hds. The offerings still embrace a large amount of tobacco in bad condition, and there has been no diminution in the usual large per cent. of inferior tobacco. Prices cannot be said to be any higher than last week, but the market has gained some of its lost animation, and buyers have taken more readily. Nothing of extra quality has offered and $14.00 represents the highest price of the week for new Burley. The country purchases in the last few weeks have been on a large scale, and the prices which have been paid indicate a good deal of courage on the part of buyers, and, like Macawber, they expect something to turn up.

Sales of the new crop to date amount to 20,448 hds. The following quotations fairly represent our market for New Burley: Dark Trash $3.00 to $4.00. Color Trash 4.00 to 5.00. Common Lugs not color 4.00 to 5.00. Color Lugs 5.00 to 7.50. Common Leaf not color 5.50 to 7.00. Good Leaf 7.50 to 10.00. Fine Leaf 10.00 to 13.00. Select Wrappery Tobacco 18.00 to 18.50.

Nipped in the Bud.

For eleven years I have suffered from a cancerous growth on my throat. At times it became very angry in appearance, discharging large quantities of matter and giving me intense pain. I used the ordinary household remedies only, and it would dry up and a scab would form over it, then it would increase in size again and trouble me greatly, and finally break and discharge freely. Thus for years it has been annoying me. A cancer doctor in Atlanta decided it was a cancer, and wanted me to cut it out. I could not muster courage to let him use the knife on my throat. About that time I saw the advertisement of Swift's Specific, and the statement of some one suffering like myself. I determined to try it, and in May, 1884, I commenced its use. My general health began to improve from the first. I was unable to eat anything scarcely, and became quite feeble; but my appetite increased, and I can eat anything now. The sore has healed up and I am in perfect health. The only sign is a small red spot about the size of a pea, but it gives me no pain. Am sure that a few bottles more will even remove that. It has done more for me than all other remedies used.

The long contemplated pipe road, connecting the Devil's Hollow with Benson and Bridgeport lines is one of importance to the citizens of the Ridge and also to the city of Frankfort.

Kentucky's poet laureate, Col. Thomas B. Ford, is expected to-day to deliver before the General Assembly, State Educators and others, one of the brightest poetic gems of his kind ever listened to on this planet.

Mrs. Mollie Quire, the charming songstress, daughter of Capt. Joseph Tracy, with her husband from Flat Creek, came to visit the home of her school days, and while here mingled her sweet soprano with the choir at the Institute.

A needy individual applied to the trustees for the school. "Do you know anything of mathematics?" inquired the incredulous official. "Wal, no, as I know. I know Billy Mattie, and a good fellow he is, too."

Capt. Joseph Tracy will appear in another column as a candidate for Jailer. The Capt. will have 150 votes in the field at home to start with. If elected he will owe the editor of the Roundabout $30 for this personal paragraph.

That the pupils of the Institute have artistic skill was demonstrated one day last week by the erection of four mammoth statues of snow placed in front of the building. The figures were those of large men with every outline a marvel in execution.

When Romulus and Gabriel were returning home to Craw down the Devil's Hollow into Bell Gate, their conversation strayed into a political field. "Say 'us, de call'd folks all lab him. G'way, call'd you'll seed what he done for Craw. He got 'em all de aligable clock 'bout him like a swab on ob bees. Look a leah. Gabe, 'twen you and I he'd make de best jalia ob de rebel flock fo' de 'no' darky."

Her nose would split a hulsebone, and she would be a good deal better off. "You've wasted checks. 'Now you have eaten 14 square from me and the old woman, and if you don't marry me before the sun sets to-morrow, I'll spit you to the two evils and sue your rotten carcass for a breach of promise," waving a half finished ash handle as she uttered the words. Mr. Allen, of Woodlucks neighborhood, and old uncle Jimmie Shackelford, of Steedmanville, dined with their cousin Alf. last Monday. The bill of fare was simple, consisting of coffee, crackers and packed eggs. Uncle Alf apologized when friend Allen asked to have his plate changed, and said he never had desert on the 22d of February. Uncle Jimmie said he didn't care much about sweet things, but he was gwine to take a few more crackers; "help yourself, we are as free as water," replied the host, so Alf says he never in all his life saw a barrel of crackers disappear so suddenly. P. S. Alf has ordered a fresh barrel of crackers. Later--He said that dinner has taken the profit off three weeks sales, and he is in hopes that before another Washington's birthday he will be married, and that friend Allen and Uncle Jimmie will be in a flour manufacturing cracker barrels.

Mr. J. B. Crane left here last Monday for a flying trip to Mortonville, Ky.

Miss Katie and Stella Cannon spent last Wednesday with Miss Sue Wilkerson.

The following letter was written to the Governor by a well known citizen of this county some time since, but as yet he has received no reply:

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 29, 1885.

His Excellency, J. Proctor Knott, Governor:

I find the following law in the Statutes of Kentucky. It fully explains itself:

Article 11, paragraph 2. "One half of all fines and forfeitures denounced or prescribed in any section of this chapter, after the payment of proper fees and expenses of court prosecution, shall inure to the benefit of the Common School Fund, and the other half to the Commonwealth."

On examining the Auditor's reports for the past four years I fail to find the fractional part of one cent from this source of revenue credited to the school fund.

What I want to know, Governor, is why this law is permitted to be so grossly violated by every clerk in the State. Is the Auditor not clothed with authority to enforce this law as well as other laws?

I now appeal to you, as the one high in authority, and by the people and sworn to enforce all laws, to give this matter your earnest and immediate attention. I have long since called Prof. Pickett's attention to the matter without any success. He has failed to reply to my letters.

Money intended by law to educate the poor children of the State should be looked after and not allowed to be lost to the school fund as has been done and is done to-day. Why is this money not collected and placed where this law requires it to go? The Louisville Commercial published on March 12th, 1882, a list of 130 indictments for gambling, copied from recent records of the Jefferson Circuit Court. In every one of these cases a fine of $500 was imposed by the court, amounting to $65,000. The half of this amount is $32,500, to which under this law I enclose you, is the property of the schools.

Yet the Auditor's reports fail to show any amount credited to the School Fund from this source of Revenue.

Will you look into the matter and let me hear from you at an early day why every clerk in the State is permitted by the Auditor to violate this law, thereby entailing a loss of thousands of dollars intended by the law to educate the poor man's child of Kentucky? It will be more than obliged to you for an early reply to my letter. I remain yours with great respect,

W. H. MURRAY.

Bill of Rights, Section 16. "That no power of suspending laws shall be exercised, unless by the General Assembly, or its authority."

From the Auditor's reports Chapter 47 of the General Statutes has been suspended. As an officer received fines imposed by the court $5,890 for gambling, failed to turn over same to the State, suit is entered against him by the gamblers, he confesses judgment, and the judgment is remitted by the Governor. Notwithstanding the Constitution says "Common School Fund consisting of, &c., together with any sum which may be hereafter raised in the State by taxation or otherwise for purposes of education, shall (mandatory) be held inviolate for the purposes of sustaining a system of Common Schools."

Fines on gambling are collected by the Sheriff and not reported to the State, but are released by the Governor (see Muslemman case, Louisville) in direct violation of the clause I have quoted from the Constitution. The special attention of the committee on Retrenchment and Reform, as well as the Committee on Education, are requested to give this matter their earnest attention as to how section 16 of the Bill of Rights, as well as the Constitution, are violated by officers high in authority who are sworn and paid by the people to enforce all laws, which they have failed to do.
